PLEASE Consider Becoming a NHLAP Monitor

Occasionally, the Supreme Court, the Professional Conduct Committee, the Character and Fitness Committee or the Judicial Conduct Committee refer someone to NHLAP with the understanding he/she will enter into a Monitoring Agreement with NHLAP as part of an Order, Consent Decree or Consent Agreement with the disciplining/admitting body. The Monitor's job is to have weekly contact with the monitored attorney, determine (to the extent possible) whether the person has complied with the conditions of the Monitoring Agreement and fill out a monthly report for the NHLAP Executive Director. The Monitor is not a friend or sponsor and is not expected to ensure the person complies with the conditions. The Monitor's job is simply to determine whether conditions have been met and to file a report accordingly. If the Monitor learns of a breach of any of the conditions, the Monitor is expected to immediately report the breach to the NHLAP Executive Director who will inform the appropriate disciplining body.

You have an opportunity to give life to the Supreme Court's recognition that in some cases a judge, attorney or law student may, with the right support and guidance provided by a NHLAP Monitoring Agreement, recover their career. NHLAP relies on trained volunteers to monitor these agreements, and thereby advance not only the discipline system in our profession, but save lives. We hope you will join us.
